HE PUKAPUKA HEI KAI MĀ TE HINENGARO

Books to feast your mind on

Like food, the knowledge within these books has been carefully prepared to provide sustenance for you when your mind hungers. They can be devoured in one sitting, or savoured in small morsels over time. The saying above reflects the important role books play in nourishing the mind and spirit. Celebrating the books within this catalogue pays homage to the timeless knowledge that has been passed down for generations as sustenance for the minds of tomorrow.
